The Equine Science Society (ESS) is the premier society for researchers, academic teachers, Extension personnel, industry professionals, and students involved in all aspects of equine science. Membership helps facilitate connections, relationships, and collaborations with other members and offers leadership and service opportunities.

Professional (Voting) Members – All persons engaged in equine research, teaching, Extension, or industry are eligible for membership. Professional Members in good standing may participate in all activities of this Society, may each cast one vote at regular or special elections for officers and Board of Directors, may vote on all matters requiring a membership vote, and may serve as a director, officer, or chairperson of committees. Individuals eligible for a complimentary membership (Distinguished Service Award Winners and Fellows) are also considered Professional (Voting) Members.

Corporate Members – Organizations interested in equine research, teaching, Extension, production, or those interested in furthering the objectives of the Society are eligible. Each Corporate Member may appoint one representative who may take part in all activities of this Society and who will be eligible to vote.

Student Affiliate Members – Undergraduate and graduate students of accredited colleges and universities may become Student Affiliate Members. Application for student membership must be sponsored by a Voting Member. Student members in good standing may participate in all activities of this Society, except for voting, holding office, serving on the Board of Directors, or acting as chairperson of committees.

Journal of Equine Veterinary Science (JEVS) is an international publication designed for the practicing equine veterinarian, equine researcher, and other equine professionals. Published monthly, each issue of JEVS includes original research, reviews, case reports, short communications, and clinical techniques from leaders in the equine industry, covering such topics as laminitis, reproduction, infectious disease, parasitology, behavior, podology, internal medicine, surgery and nutrition. JEVS is the official publication of the Equine Science Society.
